The Cedars Cardiac Care Program at Home

Skilled, Experienced Cardiac Care

The Cedars Cardiac Care Program at Home was designed to improve clinical outcomes for patients with heart problems who are acutely ill, recuperating from heart surgery or suffering from chronic, debilitating heart disease such as Congestive Heart Failure.

Patients and their family members find that The Cedars Cardiac Care Program at Home empowers them through education and improved medication adherence. Patients are taught healthy heart living, how to care for themselves following cardiac procedures and surgeries, and are given knowledge about the cardiac drugs that have been prescribed. Positive outcomes for the patient includes fewer re-hospitalizations and ER visits, as well as delayed onset of cardiac complications.

The Cedars Cardiac Care Program at Home provides skilled nursing care by staff trained and experienced in cardiac care, as well as supportive services such as occupational therapy, physical therapy and nutritional counseling. This team approach promotes proper recovery and helps the patient return to daily activities.
