

Wound Healing Program

The Cedars Home Health Wound Healing Program

Individualized, Expert Care

The Cedars Wound Healing Program at Home is a specialty program that focuses not only on the treatment and healing of wounds but also on the patients overall health. Our nurse wound specialists provide individualized and expert care under a patient's physician order to ensure our patients reach optimal healing and positive outcomes. Our staff understands the complex nature of wound treatment and healing. Our wound care program is a multidisciplinary approach in which we treat wounds as well as the underlying disease process and cause of wounds. The Cedars wound care team supports our commitment to our patients healing and comfort under our care at home following discharge from skilled nursing center or hospital.

The Cedars Home Health Wound Care Program centers on the following:

- Certified Wound Care Nurse, WCC®
- Evidence-based treatment protocols based on standards of care developed by the National Alliance of Wound Care
- Patient and caregiver education
- Continuous assessment and reassessment of wounds, patient care and change in the treatment plan as appropriate
- Collaboration with the patient's physician
- Patient comfort
- Progressive wound care products and medications
- Outcome measurement and reporting

Our goal is to optimize our patients healing time and promote the best possible health outcomes. Our staff is highly trained and utilize clinically proven products to ensure that our patients are receiving superior care.
